INTRODUCTION

The 1945 Canadian chess Championship Tournament was staged at Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, from June 5 to June 12, inclusive. However, plans for holding it were initiated a year before this at the annual meeting of the directorate of the Canadian Chess Federation held in Saskatoon, May 27, 1944, when the Bishops' Knight Club assumed the responsibility of conducting the affair. During the intervening winter and spring, four separate committees of eight members each held numerous meetings in preparation for the event. One committee raised the money needed for prizes and other expenses; a second committee made the arrangements for a suitable place in which to play and for billets for the visiting players; a third committee contacted the various provincial chess organizations throughout Canada and invited the eligible players of all provinces to compete; while a fourth committee planned and conducted the play during the period of the tournament. At intervals, all met together as a committee of the whole to co-ordinate the activities of the separate committees.

Finally, on June 5, 1945, thirteen contestants from all parts of Canada were assembled in Saskatoon for the event, which was opened with a luncheon at the Bessborough Hotel at which the contestants were entertained and welcomed by the Mayor of Saskatoon. This affair was also attended by the Chairman of the Board of Trade, the President and Vice-President of the Canadian Chess Federation, and by numerous local chess enthusiasts and their wives. This luncheon was a very enjoyable affair marred only by the absence of Abie Yanofsky through illness.

Following the luncheon, group photographs were taken; and then the tournament was formally opened by Canon Roy, President of the Canadian Chess Federation. Play was conducted in the gymnasium of the local Y.M.C.A. where the players were accommodated at tables in the central area of the floor roped off so that spectators might observe from all sides at a reasonable distance.

During the course of the tournament, an afternoon and an evening session were held every day until Sunday when the players were given a complete rest.

On Sunday afternoon the contestants were taken on a tour of the city and surrounding district in several automobiles belonging to local chess players. Besides portions of the city, the tour included a visit to the University of Saskatchewan, with its beautiful buildings of local lime-stone; the Dominion Forestry Farm at Sutherland, where countless trees make a brave show on land which was bald prairie a very few decades ago; and a ferry across the South Saskatchewan River motivated entirely by the swift current of the river itself. As the river was in full flood, the crossing was made in record time. This kind of ferry was quite new to most of our visitors and one of them was heard to remark, "Well, this thing is quite a gadget!" After the tour, the visiting contestants had dinner in small groups at various homes of local chess players. In the evening, they were all entertained at an enjoyable and informal gathering as guests of Mr. Andrew Sherman.

The thirteenth round of play was concluded on Tuesday afternoon and a farewell banquet was held in the evening at the King George Hotel. A feeling of good fellowship pervaded the whole affair. Besides having the prizes presented, the gathering was favored with several numbers by a lady soloist and indulged in a bit of community singing. Also, each contestant told how he first became interested in the game of chess, and the Bishops' Knight Club presented each of them with a copy of its crest as a souvenir. More group photographs were taken. Finally the gathering was concluded with the singing of Auld Lang Syne, and the 1945 Dominion Chess Tournament was officially over.

During the evening, however, a committee was appointed to arrange for the publishing of the games played at the tournament. The contestants were called upon for expressions of opinion as to how this should be done. Insofar as possible their wishes have been harmonized in this booklet. After meeting and discussing the views expressed by the players, the committee decided to publish all the games in the order played and without annotations. The games are all published as a matter of record and an index has been added to facilitate the finding of any particular game. This committee also selected twelve brilliant games which were submitted to Maurice Fox of Montreal, who chose the games for the brilliancy prizes.
